Economics of Immigration –1st of the VOTE Series
ACSS Pre-Conference Workshop on October 20, 2017

The VOTE Program is unique in presenting alternative perspectives of economic issues through informative, entertaining, and experiential learning. VOTE workshops are recommended for middle and high school teachers of social studies, history, government, civics, business, economics, mathematics, science, and language arts.

This workshop includes lessons on immigration definitions and history; a focus on labor markets and the impact of immigration policy on the unemployment rate; a discussion of conservative, liberal, and radical perspectives in modern policy discourse; and participant modeling of activities for immediate use in your classroom.

Professor Amy S. Cramer, Ph.D. is instructor of Economics at Pima Community College and University of Arizona, founder and President of Voices On The Economy, Inc.

Time: 8:30am – 3:30pm Friday October 20, 2017

Location: Arizona Department of Education, 3300 N. Central Avenue, Phoenix, AZ 85012

Cost: $20 registration fee includes 7 hours of professional development, breakfast and lunch.

"This program and Amy are the best thing in economics I have experienced in 36+ years of teaching economics since the introductory classes ... sponsored by ACEE and TRBF. This program needs to be expanded ..."

"The way Amy broke things down taught me so much! She presented it in a way not only do I understand it better, I feel so much more prepared and comfortable that I can actually teach econ."
